1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 17 and 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Yamada et al. '118 or Kurosawa et al. '151.

This rejection is based on the rationale noted in the previous office action. In that action the Examiner addressed the claim requirements of newly added claim 30 (that is, the addition of the silane (III)). Applicants' traversal is not persuasive. Specifically, applicants argue a limitation that is not present in the claims. There is not heat treatment temperature claimed and as such there does not appear to be any distinction between the instant claims and that in the prior art.

On the other hand, even if the heat treatment temperature was claimed, the specification fails to adequately establish an inherent difference in the film claimed and that in the prior art. Page 25 of the specification generally mentions "as the temperature during baking becomes higher". This fails to establish an inherent difference in a film heated at, for instance 650°C, and a film heated at 680°C. The phrase "becomes higher" is relative and it is unclear if this means higher compared to, for instance, 650°C or higher compared to, for instance, 200°C.

4. Claims 18 to 20 and 31 to 33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Yamada et al. or Kurosawa et al.

This rejection is also based on the rationale detailed in the previous office action. Applicants rely on the limitations of claims 17 and 30 to overcome this rejection. Since claims 17 and 30 are rejected (as noted supra) this rejection is maintained.

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

6. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Margaret G. Moore whose telephone number is 571-272-1090. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday to Wednesday and Friday, 10am to 4pm.
